

Seahouses Middle School Safe Internet Use Suitable Websites

There is plenty of advice available on the Internet. The following links are a sample:

Child Exploitation and Online Protection Centre (CEOP)

This is an excellent site providing information on child abuse and other related issues. Parents and children are able to report attempts at grooming to the global taskforce.

Link - <http://www.thinkuknow.co.uk/>

Childnet International

a non-profit organisation working with others to "help make the Internet a great and safe place for children". The site contains excellent Internet safety information for parents and children.

Link - <http://www.childnet-int.org/>

National Children's Charity (NCH)

Loads of useful information to help keep your children safe online.

Link - <http://www.nch.org.uk/information/index.php?i=134>

Kidsmart

More good ideas and a 10 minute online presentation

Link - <http://www.kidsmart.org.uk/parents/advice.aspx>

Bullying Online

Advice on what to do if you think your child is being bullied.

Link - http://www.bullying.co.uk/parents/parents1\_advice.htm

Childnet International

Interactive resource dealing with the main causes for concern.

Link - http://www.kidsmart.org.uk/POL\_IPSA\_Mac%2BPC/main.html

Chat Danger

An excellent site with lots of good information on using chat rooms, email & mobile phones etc

Link - <http://www.chatdanger.com/>

MSN Web Cracker

A site designed by teenagers for teenagers to help them understand the importance of safe surfing.

Link - <http://www.websafecrackerz.com/>

Finally, don't let the above information put you off letting your child use the Internet, the benefits far outweigh the dangers, it's just a balance between keeping them safe and not making them afraid.